

Train Running Under New York

A Pennsylvania railroad train in the new tunnel that runs from the new Pennsylvania station in New York—the largest in the world—under the East river. The opening of this traffic marks an epoch not only for New York but for every point in the United States that has been connected by rail with the metropolis. Trains can enter right into New York city, running under Pennsylvania auspices, all the way from San Francisco, without use of the ferry boat which has been a necessity of the system since railroads were first built. A tunnel under the Hudson river makes the ingress to New York as convenient as that enjoyed heretofore alone by the New York Central & Hudson River system. It takes but three minutes for the big electric locomotives to pass under the river.

OVERLY-PATRIOTIC MEXICAN LADS CHARGE JUAREZ CARS AND BREAK GLASS

So worked up by patriotic oratory were the school children of Juarez that a genuine bombardment by boys soldiers occurred as the juvenile troops were marching away from the plaza after the entertainment last night. Two street cars were the object of the storm. With cries of "Viva Mexico," the soldiers charged two innocent Mexican cars. Motormen and conductors escaped harm, but the front and rear glasses of the open cars were broken into many pieces by sticks and stones and little wooden rifles. The small riot occurred in Calle Comercio about 11:30. Police soon dispersed the boys with threats of arrest. In spite of effort of the police, and closing of all saloons in the city, decorations on many store buildings were torn down, and crowds of young men paraded the streets waving the tricolors and shouting "vivas" without end. Nobody objected except the store keepers.

MANDAMUS MAY BE SOUGHT

IN PROHIBITION ELECTION.
Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 16.—A conference is progressing here this afternoon in which anti-prohibition leaders are discussing the advisability of seeking a mandamus against controller Stephens, who refused to recognize the local option election in which the county went against prohibition. A mandamus will likely be asked to cause the controller to issue permits to saloon keepers.

GIRL ENDS OWN LIFE.

Amarillo, Texas, Sept. 16.—That Catarina Wilson, 16 years old, was not shot yesterday by playing with a gun she thought loaded, but that it was a case of simple suicide, developed here today. The family will not give the reason for the girl's action.

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 15.—A. C. Pratt, cashier of the bank at Caney, Kan., who was charged with having

THE BLOCH MILLINERY OPENING

The Opening Last Evening of the Bloch Millinery Co., a Notable Success.
In spite of the threatening evening, the opening of El Paso's newest millinery store, the Bloch Millinery Co., in the Roberts-Banner building, drew a large and appreciative crowd. The store itself was beautifully decorated with palms and garlands of green. The millinery displayed was one of the handsomest collections ever seen in El Paso, and it was with the greatest reluctance that visitors finally tore themselves away. El Paso may well be proud of stores of the character of the Bloch Millinery Co., as they place El Paso on a metropolitan basis. The opening continues tomorrow and tomorrow evening.
